Indian Team Lauds Israel's Co-ops

NEW DELHI (INA). — A two-man Indian study team which recently visited Israel for a study of cooperative activities has presented a report to the Indian Government which describes the main characteristics of the Israel co-op movement.

A summary of the report placed before the Upper House of the Indian Parliament shows that the Israel co-op movement has grown to its present status because of a group of patriots working with high idealism. It says the highly developed and successful movement is the product of actions and reactions between a set of people with high idealism and relatively untried co-operative practices.

"One of the essential characteristics of the co-operative movement in Israel is its pragmatic approach to various questions of finance and policy and co-operative practices."

Land Ownership
These organizations are not federal in character but are independent of each other. Individuals are directly affiliated, provided such individuals accept the principles of co-operation. Exploitation of hired labour by co-operative co-operatives is prohibited. Considerable attention is paid to land.

Among the main findings of the report were that Indian co-operative law is not responsible for the development of co-operatives in India. Israel's experience in successful co-operatives is partly relevant and partly misleading as all lands are held by the Jewish National Fund and various government agencies and are, therefore, of little relevance to present Indian conditions (the Indian farmer is master of his land).

But the report said other practices of the Israel movement could be borrowed by India with profit.

Philippine Leader's One-Day Visit

The Vice-President of the Philippines and Mrs. Diosdado Macapagal yesterday morning left Jerusalem via Tel Aviv for a one-day visit to Christian shrines in Nazareth and Galilee.

Before leaving, Mr. Macapagal met with Mr. Yehoshua Keren, Director of the Foreign Ministry's Asian Division. He expressed his regret that, due to the brevity of his visit, he was unable to meet with Government leaders.

An extradition agreement between Israel and Argentina is to be signed in Buenos Aires on May 2.

Professor E. E. Wolf Dies at Age of 77

Dr. Gottfried Ewald Wolf, Emeritus Professor of Arabic and Turkish Philology, at the Hebrew University, died in Jerusalem yesterday at the age of 77.

A distinguished scholar who achieved a considerable reputation as an orientalist, Dr. Wolf attended the University of Berlin and the Hochschule für Wissenschaft in Berlin, and the University of Halle. He was for many years Director of the Oriental Department in the Prussian State Library in Berlin, and Professor of Islamic Philology at the University of Halle.

The four years prior to his immigration to this country in 1935 were spent as Professor of Semitic Philology at the University of Frankfurt.

Prof. Wolf's association with the Hebrew University dates back to the period 1931/32, when he was Visiting Director of the Institute for Advanced Studies in Jerusalem, as well as in 1935 he was appointed successor to Prof. H. B. Segal as Director of the Jewish National Library in Jerusalem.

He leaves a wife, a daughter and two grandchildren.

Appreciation Sophie Udin

Sophie Udin, who passed away in Jerusalem on Sunday, was one of the few prominent American Zionist leaders who came to Israel. She was a high school teacher, she brought her special professional experience to help in the organization of our State Archives and the development of a library network. She imparted new techniques to many pupils both in in-service training and in formal courses at the Hebrew University and elsewhere.

Though a veteran Zionist, she was not spared the heartache of the new immigrant, and was distressed by the obvious discrepancy between official promises encouraging Western allies and the actual experience of many of the new arrivals. It was in her home in Tel Aviv that plans were drawn up for the creation of the Association of American and Canadian Friends of the Jewish People.

Sophie Udin was a warm human being. Countless friends in Israel and abroad will feel the power of her passing, but remain forever enriched by the privilege of having known her.

Druse Celebrate Prophet's Holiday

Members of the Druse community yesterday began their three-day celebration of the Prophet's Holiday. The celebration of the Prophet's Holiday is a Druse festival which is celebrated in the Druse villages in the Galilee and in the Jordan Valley.

Only 20-30 Druse took part in the festive gatherings at the traditional site of the Prophet's Holiday in the village of Kfar Hittin in Lower Galilee.

Our Area correspondent reports that feeling is running in the Druse community today is one of an air of optimism. The Druse community is a small community which is a Druse village in the Galilee and in the Jordan Valley.

Dr. Wolf's association with the Hebrew University dates back to the period 1931/32, when he was Visiting Director of the Institute for Advanced Studies in Jerusalem, as well as in 1935 he was appointed successor to Prof. H. B. Segal as Director of the Jewish National Library in Jerusalem.

2 Infiltrators Got 20 Year Terms

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — A man who escaped from Haifa prison in the break of 1958 and was caught during a subsequent infiltration attempt, was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment by a Military Court here. A similar sentence was imposed on a second infiltrator captured with him.

The two men, Mohammed A'war, a former Palestinian, and Asad Malla, both about 35 years old, were captured by an Israeli patrol near Ashdod in August 1958. When challenged by the patrol, Malla threw away his rifle and A'war shot at the patrol. Both were wounded and taken to a military hospital.

During the trial, each was charged with the same offenses. The court found them guilty and sentenced them to 20 years imprisonment. The court also ordered them to be deported to their country of origin.

A'war had been sent to Haifa in 1957 for six years on charges of espionage. After escaping, he fled with other prisoners to Jordan.

On his capture last year, he told police that last July he had been in Haifa and had been ordered to contact an Egyptian agent in Haifa. He said he had been given a list of names and addresses.

Because the evidence of his espionage was not sufficient, the court sentenced him to 20 years imprisonment. The court also ordered him to be deported to his country of origin.

Mr. A. Barak, the defense counsel, argued that his client was a victim of circumstances and should be released. The court rejected his arguments.
